THE KU KLUX.

The Arrests in South Carolina Giving Satis-facilon-Citizens Gratified at Being Relieved of Mu Klux Tyranny-Fearful Record of Marder and Outrage.
Washington, D. C., Nov. 6, 1871.

enator Scott has received a letter dated York-le, B. C., October 23, from a prominent gentleman, temporarily in that vicinity, in which it is temporarily in that vicinity, in which is that Avery. Tomlinson and Bratton, who, it was proved, were members of the Ku Klux organization, together with twenty or thirty other men, navo mominiously fied, even refere a finger was raised the warning proclamation issued. About one metred and sixty have surrendered and confessed i they knew, and the less guilty are parcied for means to keep them in charge. The tenue is pilling up so fast that time falls. all they knew, and the less guilty are parteed for the state of means to keep them in charge. The widence is piling up so fast that time fails to do more than take it down and file it away until there shall be an opportunity to examine and adjust. The evidence is overwhelming, and, any to this seriod, is a complete confirmation of the Act as to parties concerned in a large number of whippings and in the hanging of Williams, in which Bratton was the leader and Avery accessory before the fact; the murder of Anderson Brown, in which Tonlination was concerned; the murder of Leet and the murder of Romidtee, and astonisming as it may seem, even the facts and details of five murders, which the writer, with all bis knowledge of the outrages by the Ku Kiux, and not suspect to have been committed. "We have in Jail," he says, "some thirty men who have been concerned in the various murders, most of them having made 2 cican breast of all they know about it, and showed they were all committed by order of the Grand Chief, Avery. The better people new are beginning to say they are profoundly gratised for having been freed from the horrible tyranny to which the atrocious conspiracy had subjected them. Your actien and that of the President is completely vindicated by the facts now shown to be everwheimingly complete in proof."

AFFAIRS IN MISSISSIPPI.

Arbitrary Arrests by a Deputy Marshal— Attempt to Coutrol the Election—The People Terro: Stricken—Nobody Safe from Arrest. Columnus, Miss., Nov. 6, 1871. A Deputy United States Marshal from Oxford, Mississippi, at midnight Sunday arrested the Short sinsusappi, at midnight sunday arrested the Sheriff of the county and four respectable citizens. To-day sax more arrests have been made in the county. The that amdavit had been made by one Rose that these men had violated the Enforcement act. These citizens have been guity of no other offence than having acted, when commanded by the Sheriff, in arresting the barties against whom warrants had been issued by the State Courts as implicated in the murder of young Lee, at Artesia, by a negro mob. Rose and two other carpet-baggers were among the prisoners arrested under State warrants.

The election comes off to morrow, and the arrests of these citizens by the United States authorities is regarded as an act of retailation by these carpet-baggers and to control the election. One of the prisoners arrested for the murder of Lee is the republican carpet-bag candidate for Sheriff. The Sheriff arrested by the Marshal is a boiting republican candidate for the same office. Two of the other United States prisoners are conservative candidates for the Legislature.

No one feels that he is safe from arrest, as the United States Marshal is believed to have blank warrants, charging a violation of the Enforcement act, which he can fill up at pleasure and as the exigencies of the canvass may require before an application of habeas corpus. To-day the District State Judge sand he was powerless to interfere. The prisoners are carried to Oxford.

CAPTAIN DAVIS' HORSE.

An Ex-Policeman in Trouble. A curious case of constructive larceny was brought to the notice of Judge Scott at Essex Market yesterday afternoon. A man named Hugh Donoghue, who was formerly a patrolman in the Tenth preplact, was accused of stealing a horse from Captain Thaddens Davis under the following circumstances:—it was alleged that Donoghue had collected $200 to buy a horse with which to make a presentation to the aforesaid captain. The horse was bought from a Mr. Fuller and placed in Captain Davis' stable in Sixteenth street. It was afterwards taken from there by Donoghue, who claims that he bought the animal in his own name and for his own use. Bomeseven witnesses appeared in the case, and there seemed to be an interminable conflict as to the ownership of the horse.
